

Shorter Bios

Like Terpsichore Johnson, the main character in her book, SWEET HOME ALASKA, Carole Estby Dagg also has two younger sisters and read and re-read the Laura Ingalls Wilder books as a kid. She was born in Kansas City, Missouri, but moved to the Pacific Northwest as a toddler. Before beginning to write historical fiction, she worked as a children's librarian, CPA, and assistant library director. Under the supervision of a bossy cat, she continues to write in Everett, Washington and a converted woodshed on San Juan Island.

Please visit Carole's website at www.CaroleEstbyDagg.com

Bio in Brief

Carole Estby Dagg is the author of THE YEAR WE WERE FAMOUS and SWEET HOME ALASKA. Before writing historical fiction, she worked as a children's librarian, accountant, and assistant library director. She writes in Everett, Washington and a converted woodshed on San Juan Island.

Please visit Carole's website at www.CaroleEstbyDagg.com